

HSF Under Water Division offers a lot of standard and custom under sea solutions. The approach to the system design is realized using advanced tools to develop electronic boards, firmwares and state of the art software, which allow to meet the customer requirements with and high level of accuracy.